

People across the globe are raving about Christine Cashen and her refreshing take on everyday life. Christine is one of the few individuals to meet the rigorous induction criteria of the National Speakers Association, CPAE SPEAKER HALL OF FAME, and there's no question that she deserves that honor; her effortless ability to pull in any audience with her remarkable insights on commonplace situations make her and her messages unforgettable.

For 20 years Christine has shared her expertise on conflict resolution, stress management, and cultivating a happier more productive workplace. Audiences have related so much to her experiences, struggles, and lessons that listeners have wanted to take her back with them to the office.

Author of the award-winning books THE GOOD STUFF: Quips & Tips on Life, Love, Work, and Happiness and It's YOUR Business: Good Stuff for Your Personal, Professional, and Funny Business. Christine holds a bachelor's degree in Communication and a master's degree in Adult Education. In 2016, she was the recipient of an HONORARY DOCTORATE from Central Michigan University. Before embarking on her journey as a speaker, she worked as a university admissions officer, corporate trainer, and broadcaster. She is a mother of two, wife of a "hottie engineer," and caregiver of Murphy, a chocolate lab.

Testimonials

"The absolute enjoyment evidenced by the audience was the best I've seen in my 11 years attending this conference, or in any other conference. She finished the 90-minute address...and no one was ready to leave."

- Michigan Association of Collegiate Registrars & Admissions Officers.

"Wow! Every one of the 80-plus attendees left the room energized - overflowing with ideas we could use at work and in our personal lives. We're so lucky to have found a world-class speaker."

- Morgan Press.
