Robin Jay is a Business Relationship Expert who understands the truths about success, sales, leadership, management, focused attention, being self-motivated, and the power of a positive mental attitude. After more than 18 years as an Advertising Account Manager, Robin took a leap of faith and began her writing and speaking career.

Robin's personable, friendly style was quickly embraced by audiences across the country. Her natural ability to communicate effectively quickly put her in demand as a keynote speaker and mentor. She has been featured internationally on MSNBC-TV, Newsweek, the BBC, CNN, Forbes.com, The New York Times, and more. Her clients are quick to agree that she is results-oriented, proven by her tremendous success as an award-winning author and speaker. She has a unique ability to help her clients to do the same: establish their vision and then achieve it. Whether speaking at association functions, corporate meetings, or conventions, Robin knows how to motivate, inspire, and help others achieve their goals and dreams.

The Art of the Business Lunch was conceived by Robin while she was in sales. She saw it becoming a best seller and it quickly became just that. Her signature book on business relationships is currently in twelve languages worldwide. Now, as a professional keynote speaker, award-winning author, and corporate trainer, Robin Jay is not just "The Queen of..."

Testimonials

▢ "I have to let you know that I'm looking forward to reading The Art of the Business Lunch on my flight Monday morning (business trip - with several meal dates on the schedule). I'll finally have some time to sit and enjoy! Your presentation was spectacular! I was the one cracking up - maybe a little too loudly! But I really enjoyed it!" ▢

- Riverside Convention Bureau .

▢ "You are amazing! I have never learned so much and had so much fun at any MPI meeting, let alone a breakfast meeting!! I congratulate you on your personal and professional achievements. You are inspirational to all who are fortunate to meet you." ▢
