

Maria Marín empowers others to succeed in business and in life, but most importantly to believe in themselves. She is an internationally known expert in the “Art of Negotiation”. Her wealth of knowledge in this field has led her to become the only Latina that teaches negotiation worldwide.

Maria Marín has trained thousands how to sharpen their negotiating skills, including Fortune 500 companies in the United States, major corporations in Latin America and women organizations around the world. Her contagious energy and charismatic delivery connects with audiences, leaving them inspired to achieve their goals. Marín is the author of “Secrets of a Confident Woman”. She hosts a nationally syndicated radio show on ABC Radio Networks affiliates. Marín also writes a syndicated newspaper column in the main markets throughout the U.S. as well as a monthly column for People en Español magazine. She is a regular contributor on Univision’s national television show “Despierta America”, where she presents weekly segments on personal growth.
