

Erick Burton is a Certified Speaking Professional - and certified to change the way you think about leadership.

From corporations to not-for-profit associations, Erick Burton turns listeners into leaders. With an innate understanding of the art of negotiation and sales, Burton's voice resonates with any professional who wants to take personal steps toward greater success.

Burton knows what he's talking about, too. Formerly a division director for a Fortune 500 company, Burton's empowering approach to team management paid off with a 350% annual growth rate. Now, Burton shares his insights into what it takes to drive that same growth for other organizations. Since 1996, Burton has traveled the world, speaking to clients like United Airlines, Meeting Expectations, Million Dollar Round Table, ORACLE Applications Users Group, and IAEE [International Association of Events & Exhibitions].
