

A successful business owner, life coach and public speaker Eli Davidson is a dazzling inspiration to people across North America. Her upbeat attitude and personal story of going from challenge to champion encourages people to take that first step to overcome their own obstacles. Her unique approach combines her "I've been in your shoes!" manner, playful humor and deep compassion. People naturally wake up to their own possibilities of greater health, wealth and happiness using her tools and Turnaround Techniques. By breaking positive change down into bite sized morsels she assists her audience to implement those steps immediately.

As an actress, she shared the stage, television and movie screen with Christopher Walken, Kiefer Sutherland and Michael J. Fox. Oscar winner, John Madden (best director Shakespeare in Love) wrote a role in for her in the Obie Award winning play, Cinders, at the legendary Public Theatre. He cast the entire play, began rehearsals and said, "the play isn't complete without Eli."

As a self-taught designer, her products appeared in Neiman Marcus, Saks and Nordstrom's nationwide. From the ashes of a difficult divorce, she started a leading Healthcare consulting company working with: Cambridge Insurance, Zurich Insurance, Hartford Insurance, Kemper Insurance, Liberty Mutual, State Compensation Insurance Fund, and Glendale Memorial Hospital.
