

Blythe J. McGarvie is a Senior Lecturer and teaches the MBA required curriculum course Financial Reporting and Control at Harvard Business School. McGarvie has operated profitable business units and managed employees in business endeavors from China to Chile, France to Finland. She serves as a member of the boards of directors of Accenture, Viacom, Wawa and LKQ and formerly served on the boards of Travelers Insurance, Pepsi Bottling Group and Lafarge NA. During the prior ten years, Ms. McGarvie served as Chief Executive Officer and Founder of Leadership for International Finance (LIF Group), offering a global perspective to clients seeking profitable growth. LIF Group offers tailor-made consulting services and leadership seminars for corporate and academic groups. She was a pioneering CFO, and in 1995, was one of only 10 female CFOs in the Fortune 500.

She speaks worldwide to audiences on consumer markets, worldwide economic trends, and leadership strategy. Blythe McGarvie is a professional speaker who loves to reach audiences large or small. Her vision is that business is a positive force for strengthening the global community. She executes her vision with companies and individuals through her speeches, writings, board service and coaching.

In addition, she has developed a unique senior management consortium at LIF Group who, individually and collectively, provide selected companies with essential strategic and practical solutions for profitable growth. We invite you to explore the videos and the website. Her motto is to provide insight, influence and leadership to create high performance.

Blythe McGarvie

Speech Topics

- Peak Performance
- Management
- Leadership
- Global Leadership
- Executive Speaker
- Business Ethics

