

Known as "The Tiny Speaker Who Empowers You to Walk Tall!", Peggy has captivated audiences for over 10 years with her poignant message of personal empowerment, triumphing over challenges and celebrating diversity. From the soaring height of 3'8", her zealous optimism, humorous disposition and encouraging demeanor are both inspiring and contagious. No wonder she is an endeared and popular presenter throughout the US.

What's most remarkable about Peggy is the contrast of her outer smallness and her inner BIGness. Audiences respond to Peggy with great fervor—a testimony to her gift of articulation, zealous audience rapport and exemplifying her uplifting message. Peggy doesn't just deliver a dynamic speech; her impact on audience members leaves something lasting—an insight, a greater awareness or a sensibility that influences their life and relationships for years to come in a positive way. Coming from the field of psychotherapy, Peggy inspires and enlightens the minds and hearts of people from all walks of life. Working with both groups and individuals, she uses insight, captivating storytelling, powerful questions and humor to support us all in breaking free from whatever is holding us back--keeping us "small inside"-- and to realize, embody and express our inherent magnificence ... so we can live life to it's fullest, professionally and personally!

Peggy is the author of two books: Walking Tall and Little Squarehead as well as the creator of many other "Empowerment Tools" (see our "Store") Peggy celebrates her daily life, with her husband, Brad Laise, an actor, and their Samoyed dogs in Los Angeles, CA.
