

With Steve Forbes as her mentor, Juliette Fairley entered into the exclusive, glamorous world of high finance and emerged with a desire to enlighten the masses about the money secrets of the rich. From Wall Street to Hollywood, park bench to Park Avenue, Juliette Fairley is a popular financial literacy expert who suggests strategies to people from all walks of life: whether young, old, poor, rich, famous or obscure. Miss Fairley has written four personal finance books published by John Wiley & Sons, lectures to sold out speaking engagements around the country and makes appearances on radio and television networks, including CNBC, CNN and FOX.

As the pre-eminent expert on anything and everything money-related, Miss Fairley has written for the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, Bloomberg Wealth Manager and many other publications. She has interviewed everyone from fashion and media mogul Russell Simmons to Franklin Templeton Global Investor Mark Mobius. The author of Cash in the City: Affording Martinis, Manolos and Manicures on a Working Girl's Salary, Fairley founded the foremost financial literacy firm, Feeling Rich Financial.

After hosting a money reality tv show called Cha Ching Money Makers for the Discovery Channel, Fairley dabbled in show business in a co-starring role in Spike Lee's aptly titled tv pilot M.O.N.Y. for NBC and in an off-broadway solo show that featured Halle Berry's perfume.

Using her exciting celebrity and performing arts background, the lithe, bright, energetic mulatress enlists her registered financial planner designation and personal experiences with dollars and sense to engage and enlighten live audiences, television screens, internet websites and radio airwaves.

Testimonials

"... I have known Juliette since 2008. She did considerable research for two books that I co-authored, Power Ambition Glory and How Capitalism Will Save Us: Why Free People and Free Markets Are the Best Answer in Today's Economy. Her summaries, particularly for Power Ambition Glory, were extremely helpful, indeed critical for the successful completion of that project. She has proven herself to be a talented and skilled writer. She is determined, hardworking and very capable of completing any written project. At the same time, Ms. Fairly is level-headed and diplomatic."
