

Peter Guber has spent his entire life blazing his own trail. From movies to music to television to sports, he has seized the opportunity and been a pioneer in businesses and industries that are notoriously difficult. A successful executive and entrepreneur in various industries, he has deep strategic and operational experience with universal application.

Peter's diverse career encompasses 40 years of experience that has propelled him to success as an executive, entrepreneur, professional sports team owner, and #1 NYT bestselling author. His extraordinary life has been built on sharing a vision and creating the organization to realize that dream.

In his keynotes, Peter shares lessons he has learned from a life at the highest levels of sports and entertainment - revealing tools and processes that inform and ignite the newest leaders in the business community as they strive to make big things happen.

Peter Guber's career has been fueled by curiosity and personal reinvention. He is Chairman and CEO of Mandalay Entertainment Group. Before Mandalay, Peter was Chairman and CEO of Sony Pictures Entertainment, Chairman and CEO of Polygram Entertainment, Owner and Co-Founder of Casablanca Record & Filmworks and President of Columbia Pictures. He produced or executive produced (personally or through his companies) films that garnered five Best Picture Academy Award nominations (winning for Rain Man) and box office hits that include The Color Purple, Midnight Express, Batman, Flashdance, The Kids Are All Right and Soul Surfer.

Peter is operating Owner of the three-time NBA Champion Golden State Warriors, an Owner of the six-time National League West Champion, and two-time National League Champion, Los Angeles Dodgers, and an Owner an...

Peter Guber

Speech Topics

- ☐ Sports
- ☐ Marketing
- ☐ Management
- ☐ Leadership
- ☐ Innovation
- ☐ Entrepreneur

Testimonials

"The JP Morgan clients have not stopped talking about you! They just loved their evening at Paramount with your riveting talk. We used many of your points the next day during our presentations. Thank you for your time, your energy and your wisdom - we were blessed with all three."

- MARY CALLAHAN ERDOES, CEO of Wealth Management, JP Morgan Chase .

"Your words today hit the mark. Journalists are a challenging group to entertain, yet you found a way to inspire them by weaving in empowering stories and life experiences that moved their hearts and minds."

- MARK SHAPIRO, Former CEO Six Flags .