

Richard Hadden is a Certified Speaking Professional, author, and leadership consultant who focuses on the connection between people and profit. He is co-author of the popular Contented Cows leadership book series, including his latest book, Contented Cows STILL Give Better Milk, and also the book Rebooting Leadership.

Richard developed and practiced his leadership skills as a manager in both Financial Services and Information Technology. He was Director of Product Development for a software company in North Florida before starting his own technology consulting business in 1986. Gradually, his consulting focus shifted from Information Technology to Human Resources, Leadership, and Management.

While consulting, he taught software design, principles of management, and international economics at Jacksonville University from 1988-1991.

Since 1990 he has delivered keynote presentations and training programs on Leadership and Employee Engagement for more than 850 audiences on five continents. In 2000, he received the Certified Speaking Professional designation from the National Speakers Association. This is the highest earned designation in the speaking profession.

Richard has appeared on CNN and MSNBC, and his work has been featured in Business Week, Entrepreneur, and Inc. magazines, as well as in many trade and professional publications.

Testimonials

“I really appreciate the time you took getting to know our members and customizing your program for us - researching the forest products industry, spending time at our social functions, even getting to know people’s names and businesses. What a pleasure to work with someone so attentive to detail!”

- Timber Products Management Resource Solutions.

“Thank you for being an important part of the American Bankers Association’s 2009 State Association Staff Workshop in Austin, TX. Your closing keynote address was one of the highlights of the conference. Several attendees came up to me afterwards and told me that I did a great job in selecting you as a speaker.”
