

Carl Higbie has been in national media for over 10 years. He jumped into the national spotlight after the release of his first political book while serving as an active-duty Navy SEAL for almost a decade. Carl went on to write 3 additional books regarding some of our nation's most complex issues. Being one of the first public figures to advocate for Donald Trump publicly, in 2015 Carl became a campaign spokesman and was later appointed to a senior-level position in the administration.

Carl has a professional background in business management giving him a unique insight into economic topics and subjects. While Carl has been a guest on military and political issues since 2012 on all the national media networks, He has been a host at Newsmax since 2019, launching the network's first in a series of in-house Saturday shows, "Saturday Report". He now hosts the 5pm evening show "Carl Higbie Frontline".

"Be someone worth dying for." - Carl Higbie

Carl Higbie

Speech Topics

- Resilience
- Politics & Current Events
- Military
- Media/News Journalists
- Change

