

Eric Kaufmann combines an unrelenting commitment to results with an unyielding regard for human spirit. He is the product of forty years of Zen practice seamlessly woven into three decades of business leadership, both as a corporate leader and advisor to leaders.

Eric is an appointed Thought Leader at Harvard's Institute of Coaching, he designed and taught the Coaching for Professionals program at San Diego State University, and has presented at TEDx. He is the author of The Four Virtues of a Leader and Leadership Breakdown, and is laser focused on teaching executives and leaders how to raise their game as human-centered leaders with bottom line accountability.

Eric's teaching and guidance to clients such as Dr. Bronner's, Verizon, ASML, Sunpower, Circle, SDG&E, Alcon, and Facebook, weaves in tried-and-true wisdom gleaned from more than 15,000 hours as an executive guide. He takes leaders on a journey below the surface and beyond the obvious to help them be more effective, content, and empowered. His experience-earned presence and practices equip, inspire, and embolden leaders to switch on and apply their Wisdom, Love, and Power. As a result, they connect more deeply, decide more powerfully, and generate innovative outcomes.

Eric has lived and worked on three continents, managed and led at Fortune 100 firms, and in addition to his degree in business, he is a certified Clinical Hypnotherapist and Master Scuba diving Instructor. In his previous life he lived off the grid in a mountain cabin he built by himself. Eric is married for 25 years and is the blessed father of two remarkable young women who know how to navigate the Matrix.

Eric Kaufmann

Speech Topics

- Teambuilding
- Religion / Faith
- Personal Growth
- Leadership
- Business Strategy
- Business Communications

Testimonials

“Eric, I would like to thank you for presenting at our 25th Annual Users Meeting. Our staff and clients were enlightened and inspired by your presentation. You helped make our conference the most memorable in years. I am still receiving positive feedback from clients who attended your presentation. We have even received numerous requests to bring you back to speak at next year's Meeting in Vegas! Thanks again for taking time to impart your knowledge and wisdom with us.”

- Senior Vice President, Maximus.