

As the only Hotelier on broadcast television, Anthony Melchiorri is one of the most well-known and respected Hospitality Experts in the world. Over 25 years, utilizing his unique management style, Melchiorri helped to turn around New York's iconic Plaza Hotel, put the Lucerne on the New York Times list as one of the very best run hotels in the city, and recreated the magic of The Algonquin— the literary haunt of the famous “Round Table.” From there, Melchiorri went on to develop the Nickelodeon Hotel and Resort in Florida, became first Vice President of Tishman Hotels and served as senior vice president of New York Hotel Management Company.

After 25 years in the hotel business, Melchiorri took his “no-nonsense” management approach to television. He is the creator and star of the wildly popular cable TV series, Hotel Impossible. Over 8 seasons, he worked his magic each week to keep failing hotels with near-fatal problems — and especially the families who own these businesses — from going broke. Melchiorri had his hand in two additional shows that premiered on the Travel Channel in Fall 2015. He was the host of Hotel Showdown — a winner-takes-all competition in which four hotels went head-to-head for a $25,000 prize. As the creator and co-executive producer of Five-Star Secrets, Melchiorri took viewers behind the scenes of the world's best 5-star hotels— from sleeping in the most expensive room to an inside look at how security operates.

In addition to his work on television, Melchiorri has also written a book about how to run any successful business like a five-star hote...

Testimonials

“Let me say that it was such an honor and a privilege to have you speak at our Leadership Conference in Chicago. Hearing your stories and experiences throughout your time spent in hospitality industry was not only entertaining but inspiring for all of us as well.”
