

Dan Lier is a powerful force of optimism and achievement who believes every person is capable of incredible potential. For 20 years, he has been helping people all over the globe improve their mindsets and increase their productivity and performance.

After winning two successive National Championships as a college basketball player and achieving top national sales performer with Federated Insurance, Dan became fascinated by what separates the champions from average performers. He began his professional speaking career as a field sales rep for Tony Robbins and quickly became the #1 performer. Dan helped to change the sales paradigm within the Robbins organization and was elevated to sales leader - where he led two national sales teams, on opposite sides of the country, to produce record sales numbers for the business.

Dan is a best-selling author as well as an adjunct professor at Fort Hays State University School of Business and Entrepreneurship.

With the experience of thousands of customized corporate motivational keynote presentations, Dan will design the perfect talk for your meeting. His client list includes companies such as Pfizer, Cigna, Blue Cross Blue Shield, Prudential, BMW, and many more.

For more information on Leadership and Sales expert Dan Lier, contact Executive Speakers Bureau 901.754.9404.

Dan Lier

Speech Topics

- Virtual Keynotes
- Sales
- Personal Growth
- Peak Performance
- Overcoming Adversity
- Motivation

Testimonials

“Dan’s ability to inspire our best gave us the edge on the competition. He has taken our top sales force and put them on a LEVEL 20!”

- Sr. V.P., MGM Mirage.

“Dan’s well thought out message and dynamic presentation style had a profound impact on our annual meeting.”

- CEO/President - Ferrellgas.