

Tasha Eurich is an organizational psychologist, researcher, and New York Times best-selling author. She's built a reputation as a fresh, modern voice in the business world by pairing her scientific grounding in human behavior with a pragmatic approach to professional development.

Over her 15-plus-year career, she's helped thousands of leaders—from public company CEOs to early stage entrepreneurs—improve their self-awareness and success.

She contributes to Harvard Business Review and her work has been featured in outlets like NPR, The Wall Street Journal, The New York Times, Forbes, and Fast Company. Her TEDxMileHigh talks have been viewed more than six million times.

Thinkers50 has named her one of the top emerging management thinkers in the world and a top 50 world leader in coaching, and she ranked #13 on the GlobalGurus list of organizational culture experts. Dr. Eurich was also chosen from more than 16,000 candidates as one of Marshall Goldsmith's "100 Coaches" to advance the practice of leadership with Dr. Goldsmith (recognized as the world's most influential leadership thinker).

Dr. Eurich's first book, Bankable Leadership, debuted at #8 on The New York Times best-seller list. Her latest book, INSIGHT, delves into the connection between self-awareness and success. Hailed as a "bold, exhilarating take on self-improvement" by Success Magazine and a "fascinating read" by The Guardian, INSIGHT was named a best book of 2017 by Strategy+Business and nominated for best book of the year by 800CEOREAD.

As a sought-after keynote speaker, Dr. Eurich partners with her clients to deliver:

- A highly interactive experience that cements learning and maximizes behavior change
