

A leading authority on women's leadership, Jo Miller is a sought-after, dynamic, and engaging women's conference speaker, delivering more than 60 speaking presentations—often return engagements—annually to audiences of up to 1,200 women. She has traveled widely in Europe, North America, Asia Pacific, and the Middle East to deliver keynotes and teach workshops for women's leadership conferences, women's professional associations, and Fortune 1000 corporate women's networks and initiatives.

Jo created the Women's Leadership Coaching® system after interviewing more than 1,000 up-and-coming women leaders and identifying a common set of challenges encountered by women wanting to advance their careers.

Used successfully by thousands of women worldwide, the system identifies the key steps women must take to advance into positions of influence and leadership—especially in industries long considered “a man's world,” such as technology, finance, and energy.

Jo is CEO of Women's Leadership Coaching, Inc., Inc., founding editor of Be Leaderly, and author of the upcoming book She's Got Clout: How to Become A Rising Woman of Influence.

Jo Miller is frequently called on to comment in the media. She writes “Rise To The Top”, a column for The Daily Muse, and her monthly guest column for emerging leaders appears in Business 380 Magazine. Her articles have attracted tens of thousands of readers at Inc., Forbes.com, Mashable, Lifehacker, Newsweek, Time and CareerBuilder.
