

Richard Coffey is a native of North Carolina. He is a businessman and former professional athlete. Richard served three years in the United States Army as an Airborne Paratrooper—a member of the first to fight last to fall 82nd Airborne. Richard is a former University of Minnesota Gopher Basketball player and ex NBA Minnesota Timberwolf. After his stint in the NBA, he continued his basketball career by playing and coaching abroad in Europe and Asia. In his professional career, Richard has started multiple businesses, worked in corporate America, and has given presentations throughout the United States.

Richard speaks to your audience about not only stepping outside their box, but living outside their box. With Richards background and experiences in the military, athletics and corporate America he take your audience on an empowering and entertaining journey of self-discovery that is quite often described as life changing!

He will enlighten your audience on how to challenge themselves and strive to reach their full potential. Richard believes, “you can’t win at the game of life if you are not willing to get off the bench.” He creates a game plan to assist them with the next chapters of their lives. He often states that, “our life consists of ever changing seasons, one season never last forever.”

Richard believes that being “average is your enemy” and his ultimate goal is to assist others as they discover and utilize; their talents to meet challenges and solve problems.

Testimonials

“Richard was able to deliver a highly motivating talk that was specifically tailored to our audience. To this day, I still receive positive comments about him and I would recommend Richard to any group that is looking to energize their people.”

- Executive Director.

“I have heard Richard’s presentation on two separate occasions and he is absolutely amazing. He is a very talented speaker. He is charismatic and entertaining. Our staff loved his presentation! They all left the day inspired on a professional and personal level. Both times that I saw him, he tailored his presentation to fit the needs of the group. He does his homework to really understand your groups needs and does a great job of reinforcing your message throughout his presentation. I can’t say enough great things about him. We offer a number of trainings for staff and as far as speakers go, he stands out as one of the best.”

- Assistant Director at South Central WorkForce Council.
