

If you've ever wondered, "How can I say this so they really get it?" you have entered the world Cary Pfeffer knows better than most anyone on the planet. From top executives and political leaders to television personalities and sports legends, Cary Pfeffer has provided direction and advice to make sure each of them is better at telling their story.

For nearly 15 years Cary has run his Phoenix-based firm, ClearComm Consulting. Before that he spent more than 20 years as a news reporter and anchor, listening to news makers and everyday people so their stories could be told. Story telling is so important to Cary that he has just released a book designed to help people tell their story. Entitled "There's Not an App for That!" the book chronicles strategies and approaches anyone can use to connect. NoAppBook.com

Cary's work as a keynote speaker reaches back to his roots. He was a member of three back-to-back national champion speech teams in high school and then went on to radio and television, spending 20 years on-the-air in Los Angeles and Phoenix. These days he speaks on leadership and communication around the country.
