Testimonials

[Erica's] talk was a hit. It really had our attendees thinking about the many possibilities ahead, and the talk sent them off to their professional development sessions with "eyes wide open". [She] had a great command of the content and the research-based information earned our audience's respect and attention right from the start. It worked out splendidly!

Erica came beautifully prepared and discussed the importance of examining topics from a fresh and innovative perspective. She was creative, articulate, astute and was able to give the students examples that they could readily relate to. I would definitely use Erica again.
