

Brant Menswar is a best-selling author, named one of the country's top speakers, and has helped more than 10,000 people discover their non-negotiable values. His keynotes transcend mere speaking and information-sharing to a powerful, moving conversation designed to re-engage even the most apathetic of employees. His books and podcast expand on his ground-breaking work around values-based leadership described as "disarmingly simple and incredibly powerful." Brant has helped to change what's possible for industry-leading companies like Netflix, Verizon, Anthem, Microsoft, ESPN, Hilton, and dozens more. He is certified in the Psychology of Leadership from Cornell University and is on a mission to help organizations create a high-performing connected culture. Passionate and engaging, Brant encourages audiences to discover their Black Sheep Values® and move forward with deliberate intention. His interactive and entertaining ways of defining what matters most enable audiences to develop the skills necessary to perform at the highest level.

Testimonials

"Brant was the perfect choice as we were looking for something a little different than the "standard" presentation. He delivered a raw, emotional and powerful presentation that incorporated his love of music in a compelling and unique way. His presentation provided impactful takeaways that attendees could incorporate both into their professional and personal lives. We only received rave reviews after the program. In fact his presentation was a constant topic of conversation over the next several days. It was a big hit!"

- American Society of Association Executives (ASAE).

"Brant is an unforgettable, engaging and impactful keynote. He was a keynote for my organization a couple years ago and people still talk about it, I still reflect on it. Choosing Brant is an EASY decision. He is one of the best. Hands down."
