

For over twenty years, Ed has been captivating audiences across the country with his relaxed style of inspiration and motivation. From FedEx to Delta Airlines from Cellular One to the United States Postal Service, Ed has addressed over one thousand audiences of all types.

As a banquet speaker who utilizes tasteful humor with challenging anecdotes of hope and success, Ed weaves a tapestry of unforgettable stories which will have your audience enjoying an emotional ride all evening...and recalling what they heard the next day. One uncompromising promise Ed makes to all of his audiences has always been kept...they WILL enjoy his program!

A successful businessman in his own right, Ed has the ability to relate and connect to any audience, whether large or small, regardless of gender or age makeup. His respect for his listeners is apparent, especially when measured by the common evaluations of his talks that include comments regarding how his audience members felt as if Ed were talking to me personally.

Ed's topics vary from group to group, depending upon the interest and needs of the audience. He speaks primarily on the impact of values in management and customer service and how eliminating indifference in the workplace can be accomplished through kinder interpersonal communications.

Set your expectations for your next banquet or meeting high...expect professionalism, entertainment, inspiration, and humor. If you want aerobics, cheerleading, or board breaking, look somewhere else. However, if you want your audience to be electrified and satisfied, consider Ed for your next special event.
