

Made famous by the dueling Dan vs. Dave Reebok ads, Dave Johnson was tabbed by USA TODAY as the World's best known bronze medalist. Already a two-time Olympian, Dave Johnson won the decathlon bronze medal in Barcelona while competing on a broken foot. Dave was born in Missoula, Montana, where he experienced a rebellious adolescence. As a high school senior, Dave moved to Corvallis, Oregon, and it was there that he discovered his incredible athletic potential.

Dave went on to Azusa Pacific University, where he won the World University Games.

Already an accomplished public speaker, Dave is comfortable in front groups and on camera. He has appeared on numerous TV shows as a guest and as a guest-host. His featured appearances in Reebok, Pert Plus and Ryder truck commercials, to name just a few, have shown off his natural charm and boyish good looks.
