

Art Mortell has been a keynote speaker, trainer and consultant since 1967. He has given over four thousand presentations for corporations including IBM, Merrill Lynch Lockheed Martin, Smith Barney, GTE, Dean Witter and Fidelity. Art Mortell has been recognized as one of the "Top Ten Speakers in the United States" by Personal Selling Power magazine, as "America's #1 Motivational Technology Speaker" by the Project Leadership Conference in Paris, and is rated Number One (of over one hundred speakers) by the Wharton School's Security Industry Association Program.

Art Mortell is also the author of The Courage to Fail and World Class Selling. Art Mortell is an expert in sales training and leadership development and is available to bring these skills to your company or organization. As a keynote speaker, Art Mortell makes every presentation lively and interesting by mixing the right amount of humor with powerful and beneficial content.

Art Mortell has a graduate degree from the City University of New York, was a sales representative for IBM for five years, and taught at Pasadena College. Art Mortell has also conducted executive conferences at Pepperdine University in Malibu. He presents messages of great value and substance using an inspirational and entertaining style.

Art Mortell is more than just another motivational speaker. The world of motivation covers many areas such as team building, leadership training, management development, employee motivation and more. Art Mortell has been speaking on these topics around the world for more than 30 years!

Art Mortell has presented internationally in Australia, The Bahamas, Canada, France, England, Jamaica, Mexico, Singapore and Spain. To book sales and peak performance sp...

Art Mortell

Speech Topics

- ☐ Sales
- ☐ Peak Performance
- ☐ Leadership
- ☐ Change

