

Susan RoAne gives multi-generational audiences the required tools, techniques and strategies they need to connect and communicate in today's global business world. Her practical, informative and interactive presentations are known for what The San Francisco Chronicle calls her "dynamite sense of humor."

"Known as "The Mingling Maven®," Susan leads a double life as a bestselling author and a sought-after keynote speaker. Because of her groundbreaking best-seller, How to Work a Room®, which celebrates its Silver Anniversary with a brand new edition recently published in print, audio and digitally as an e-book, Susan is considered the undisputed and original networking and conversation expert. Because people find walking into rooms full of people to be daunting, over a million copies of her classic book have been sold worldwide. She also wrote The Secrets of Savvy Networking, What Do I Say Next, How To Create Your Own Luck and Face To Face: How To Reclaim The Personal Touch in A Digital World.

Identified as thought leader on face to face communication by the Economist Intelligence Group, her ideas, tips and suggestions are featured in the media around the world - online, on air and in print. Including: The New York Times, The Wall Street Journal, The Washington Post, Chicago Tribune, Stellar Magazine of Ireland, Fast Company, Entrepreneur, forbes.com, The BBC, Sydney Telegraph, The San Francisco Chronicle and Huffington Post.

Susan has appeared on CNN, NBC11, BBC, CNBC, CBC, NPR, The Today Show of Australia and radio and TV stations throughout the world.
