

Mamie McCullough Ph.D, is a motivational speaker who brings the "I Can. You Can Too!" message to the masses. She might be considered a modern day life coach, but that would simplify the McCullough legacy and the impact she has had on others. It is virtually impossible to cross paths with McCullough and not walk away with a spring in your step and big plans for your own future. She is the ultimate motivator.

It's Not Where You Start

Life did not deal McCullough a good hand or even good teeth. Her father passed away, leaving her Momma to raise nine children on a second grade education and with few financial resources.

McCullough left Dixie, Georgia at the age of twenty with two feed sack dresses, a bag of her Mama's fried chicken, and twenty-five dollars in cash. McCullough did not even realize that she had to pay tuition to attend college when she landed in Brownwood, Texas.

Success Doesn't Just Happen

Although McCullough was fortunate to have many people reach out and help over the years, ultimately, her success rested in her own hands and heart. It wasn't always easy, and she admits that there were moments (only brief) when she wanted to toss in the towel.

As McCullough points out:

"Sometimes the best work is done by people who don't want to do what they have to do but who are nonetheless courageous enough to get up and get going! Who are the successful people? They are the ones who do the things that unsuccessful people refuse to do."

Hard Work Pays Off

McCullough worked as a public school teacher and then a 5A high school principal in South Georgia where she developed programs to foster self esteem. She then took her messages of hope and inspiration to larger audi...

Testimonials

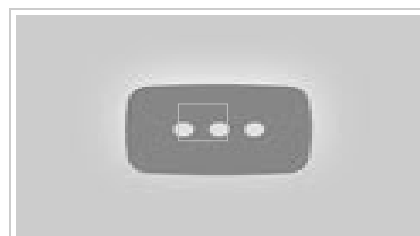

"When over 600 secondary teachers ALL praise her for relating to their needs and ask for her back to the school district again, she has to be a very special person... Having worked in education and staff development for over 20 years, I have heard many great speakers. Mamie, however, has to be one of the best, if not THE best motivator I have ever heard... she cannot be equaled!!!"

- Tyler Independent School District, Tyler, TX .

Dr. Mamie McCullough

Speech Topics

- ☐ Sales
- ☐ Motivation

"The more speakers I see, the more I appreciate what it is that you do. Somehow you are able to turn your painful and awkward experiences into universal lessons that remind us of the value of education and the importance of encouraging others. Anyone that can make an audience laugh and cry and learn all at the same time is worth their weight in gold... I can't wait until we can invite you back again!" □

- UNC-Chapel Hill.
