

Most baseball fans will undoubtedly best remember Tom Seaver for his incredible achievements on the mound in the Major Leagues, and his leadership of the 1969 Miracle Mets. Seaver was the Mets ace during the magical '69 season, when the Mets shocked the heavily favored Baltimore Orioles, and the world, by winning it all.

Tom Seaver is one of the members of both the 300 Wins club and the 3000 Strikeout club. He won Rookie of the Year in 1967 and three Cy Young Awards. Seaver set the major league record by striking out 10 consecutive batters. He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1992, receiving the highest percentage of votes than any player in the history of the game.

He won 311 games, with a 2.86 earned run average and was one of the true greats of the game. Seaver has authored several best-selling books including, The Art of Pitching and Great Moments in Baseball. A fascinating speaker, Tom uses his vast knowledge of the game to create memorable accounts of the greatest moments in baseball history.
