

For more than 25 years, Harriet Turk has blazed a trail helping leaders, students, and organizations discover how to reach their full potential and be more successful.

Harriet's professional experience over the last two decades in the worlds of education and business are incredibly unique and unmatched.

In the pharmaceutical industry, as Rookie of the Year and Top Sales Performer multiple times, Harriet developed and solidified her expertise in sales, customer service, and developing programs to increase employee loyalty.

In the education sector, Harriet developed and implemented multi-million dollar programs for local and state level educational systems as the Youth Programs Coordinator for the Mississippi Governor's Office of Highway Safety.

Today, Harriet is a sought-after speaker, consultant, and coach. Harriet is a great choice for businesses, nonprofits, leaders, sales teams, and boards looking for coaching and consulting on organizational loyalty, customer service, product or program development, employee performance, and well-being.

Testimonials

“As an event manager that works with many speakers and facilitators, I commend Harriet for being flexible and responsive during the planning process.”
